

Volunteer shop news for March

Update your volunteer shop information

In February we let you know that we're updating our finance and stock systems later this year. To make this happen, we need you to complete the form linked below by Tuesday 16 April to confirm your up to date volunteer shop information.

<https://shorturl.at/glswo>

Any unconfirmed details after this date will be archived and will not be transferred after the system updates.

New Empowerment range

We're pleased to launch our empowerment range on Monday 4 March. It features slogans that we hope our members will find inspiring for International Women's Day.

The priority ordering window for volunteer shops is open now, but you'll only be able to view and order the products if you're logged in with your volunteer shop online shop account.

We'll promote the range from Monday so please don't share any information or images of the range before Monday 4 March.

Pride badge 2024 – 8869

This month we're launching our new Pride woven badge. The badge is undated and in the shape of a waving flag and will be sold alongside our existing range of pride products. The badge will go on sale and promoted across our communications channels at the end of March when the stock arrives.

Badge clearance sale

We mentioned in our recent newsflash email that from today we're permanently reducing the price of large amount of our badges. If you missed it, we wanted to share the new price list (attached) so that you can make the necessary updates.

The sale is live from today, but we won't begin promotion until week commencing 25 March, so that you have time to adjust before there's a potential peak in demand. If you have any questions about the changes to the pricing, please email: volunteershops@girlguiding.org.uk
